

UNPERFECT DESIGN.

an immersive walk-through experience at Antwerp Design Week

30 May – 3 June | Salon Kronenburg, Kronenburgstraat 21/23, 2000 Antwerp

EVENT.

Unperfect Design presents an immersive installation at Salon Kronenburg during Antwerp Design Week. The unconventional design studio transforms forgotten materials into unique furniture, lighting, and art objects — each piece handmade in Belgium and shaped by history.

The installation unfolds as a walk-through experience composed of distinct design corners—small universes where art meets design. Visitors are invited to move through different spaces, each with its own atmosphere, material language, and narrative.

Paintings and sculptural works developed in collaboration with Belgian artist MAQUA extend the installation into a multidisciplinary dialogue between art and design. The experience also introduces the world of Belgian brand Atelier Scralan, known for its robust and timeless ceramics.

ABOUT UNPERFECT DESIGN.

Unperfect Design transforms forgotten materials into timeless objects. Through furniture, lighting, and art pieces, the studio reveals the hidden beauty of imperfection and the layered stories embedded in material history.

Founded by a German brother-sister duo, the studio operates between Brussels and the Ardennes, where it continuously explores the tension between structure and wilderness. Weathered wood, rustic metal, and reclaimed elements are reimagined into objects that reveal their past rather than erase it.

Material exploration and craftsmanship define each creation. Every piece exists as a unique work or as part of a limited series, emphasizing rarity and authenticity.
